This provision will have little or no impact to the Department of Public Safety, but will directly impact the Department of Corrections.  This bill also significantly increases sentences for convictions under sexual assault and sexual abuse. When a defendant is faced with a longer term of imprisonment, it is reasonable to expect that they may mount a more aggressive defense. It is difficult to predict if extra court testimony will be required as a result of this legislation or whether it increases the complexity of an investigation. At this juncture the department will absorb any unforeseen expenses associated with this legislation.
